Keith Byars— A Special Kind of Athlete

When Keith Byars was five years old he began talking of a career in professional sports. His father, Reverend Reginald Byars, always put academics first and did not encourage Keith to make athletics a livelihood.

"I told my boys their chances of making a living in pro sports were very slim. I was just being realistic."

By the time Keith was 11, his father realized Keith might well be an exception, for his son was the biggest, fastest, strongest and best coordinated youngster in the neighborhood. Football, basketball, baseball, track — it really didn't matter, Keith excelled in them all.

Keith attended Roth High School in Dayton and immediately stamped himself as a gifted athlete. In football, he played tight end as a sophomore, but was moved to tailback his junior year to take advantage of his speed and power. He averaged an incredible 11.5 yards per carry as a senior, running for 1,701 yards and scoring 14 touchdowns.

In basketball Keith was a starting forward on two straight state championship teams. In baseball he played center field and hit .520 as a junior and .480 his senior year. In track, he was a sprinter and ran on a state championship 440-yard relay team.

Byars considered a number of colleges, but soon sifted the list down to Pittsburgh and Ohio State. He knew his family wanted to see him play as often as possible and Columbus was only 70 miles from his Dayton home.

Before making a final decision, he sought out his boyhood idol Archie Griffin for advice.

The meeting took place at the Wilmington, Ohio training camp of the Cincinnati Bengals when Griffin was a member of the squad.

Archie left no doubt about his preference. He told Keith "all the great running backs should stay in Ohio and go to Ohio State. And if they do, they end up being successful." Archie concluded, "you can't go wrong going to Ohio State."

Whatever doubts Byars might have had were now gone. Ohio State would be his choice.

As a freshman at Ohio State in 1982, Byars found there were two established tailbacks ahead of him, Tim Spencer and Jimmy Gayle. Complicating the situation even more, Ohio State had a veteran fullback, Vaughn Broadnax. Coach Earle Bruce moved Keith to fullback, where he would figure to get more playing time as a second stringer, rather than as a third-team tailback.

Byars saw limited action in nine games in 1982. He carried just six times for 24 yards and caught a 20-yard pass. The team did well as Spencer ran for 1,538 yards, while understudy Gayle accounted for 647. Broadnax had an outstanding year at fullback.

With Spencer, Gayle and Broadnax graduating after the 1982 season, Coach Bruce moved Byars back to tailback for the 1983 season.

Keith responded with a brilliant year, running for 1,199 yards, catching 23 passes for 359 yards and accounting for 132 points. He had a dramatic 99-yard kickoff return against Pittsburgh in the Fiesta Bowl to cap off an outstanding season.

In 1984, Byars was even better. He led the nation in rushing, 1,764 yards; in scoring, 24 touchdowns; and in all purpose running, 2,441 yards. He even led the team in pass receiving with 42 catches for 479 yards. He was named "Most Valuable Player in the Big Ten" and was consensus All-American on all the major squads. He finished a strong second to Doug Flutie in the Heisman voting with 1,251 points, far outdistancing the next leading point-getter who had 443.

Last season, the multi-talented Byars had one standout performance after another, but the Illinois game was his best ever and it may have been the greatest individual effort of all-time by a Buckeye player.

Many observers have called the 1984 Illinois-Ohio State football game the most thrilling in Buckeye football history.

A crowd of 89,937, third largest in Ohio Stadium history, was on hand for the epoch game. Even the kickoff broke tradition, for the game didn't start until 3:43 p.m., due to network television. Fortunately, portable lights had been installed in Ohio Stadium for the first time, for when the game ended, at 7:11 p.m., total darkness had set in.

When the final gun sounded, 83 points had been scored; Ohio State had overcome the largest deficit in its 95-year football history; and Byars had put on one of the most remarkable offensive displays in memory.

Illinois totally dominated the early going and led 24-0. So one-sided was the game, media observers were scurrying through the record book to determine the most points scored by an Ohio State opponent.

Then, suddenly, the Buckeye offense awakened, and with a dazzling display of speed and power running by Byars and with pinpoint passing by Mike Tomczak, the rout changed into a close game.

With the score tied 38-all and with 3:18 remaining as darkness closed in around the Stadium, it was now or never for Ohio State. Starting at the Buckeye 20, with Byars carrying on seven of 11 plays, Ohio State masterfully marched 80-yards for the winning margin. It was fitting that Byars took a pitchout around left end for the winning score with just 36 seconds remaining.

It was Keith's fifth touchdown of the day, as he carried the ball 39 times for 274 yards, the latter a single game Ohio State record. His fourth touchdown was a spectacular 67 yard run in which he completely reversed his field and lost a shoe at the Illinois 35, but still had the speed to outrun the Illini secondary. In all he ran for 78 yards more than the entire Illinois team.

Through the years Ohio State has been blessed with many great football players. Five Heisman winners have come from Ohio State, as many as all the other Big Ten schools combined, and only one less than national leader Notre Dame. The Buckeyes have had 100 All-Americans and Byars may be the best of them all

Ohio State Football Outlook

In 1985, Ohio State will try to accomplish what has been done only twice in the last 30 years—win two straight outright Big Ten championships. The Buckeyes won undisputed titles in 1954 and '55 and Michigan State repeated in 1965 and '66. No school has won consecutive titles since.

Two major obstacles stand in the way of Ohio State repeating in 1985, an inexperienced offensive line and an inexperienced defensive line. Even though a new quarterback must be found, Buckeye coaches are confident a quality leader is on hand and ready to take over.

Ohio State has an abundance of skilled athletes; the top running back in the nation in Keith Byars; four gifted pass receivers; a trio of top quality linebackers; last year's entire starting secondary; one of the top punters in college football, and an accomplished extra point and field goal specialist.

Coach Bruce on the '85 Buckeyes

"We are a tailback-oriented team with Keith Byars. Keith is the finest football player I have ever coached.

"We are not one-dimensional though, because we'll have good passing and excellent receiving. With this versatility, we should be able to move the ball consistently.

"The strength of our defense is our linebackers and our improved secondary. We have some big play men on defense and this is what it takes to win.

"We have two fine kickers in punter Tom Tupa and placekicker Rich Spangler. I can't imagine any school having two better kickers.

"Our two areas of concern are the offensive and defensive lines. Seven of our eight starters, four on offense and three on defense, will be new. Spring practice didn't help much, because some of the people we were counting on were hurt and we didn't get to see what they could do."

OFFENSE

Five starters were lost from last year's championship team, one tackle, two guards, a center and the quarterback. Additionally, the fullback position may be a question, depending upon where Roman Bates plays. Depth is adequate except in the line, where personnel is inexperienced and in short supply.

Line

Cris Carter is headed for stardom at split end. His 41 receptions in 1984 were the most ever for an Ohio State freshman. His ability to get open and outjump defenders make him a favorite target. Much-improved Doug Smith is a solid understudy.

Rugged Ed Taggart has an edge in experience at tight end. A sure-handed athlete, he plays with total effort. Talented Alex Higdon and versatile John Hutchison, who had an excellent spring practice, will challenge for playing time.

Rory Graves is the only starting lineman to return. Strong, agile and experienced, he is a key man this year. At right tackle, Larry Kotterman won the right to start with an impressive showing in the spring. He has the size (6-7, 276), talent and desire, but has played only 19 minutes of college football.

Tackle depth will come from Dan Bachorski, Jay Shaffer, Mike Bloemer and Mike Durham, all virtually void of playing experience.

Jim Gilmore, a reserve for three years, should be a solid guard on the right side. Tim James, a freshman red-shirt in 1984, and Ron Paulsen, a junior college athlete who missed spring practice because of an injury, are top candidates at left guard. Greg Zackeroff, another freshman red-shirt, will be watched closely as will Tom Glancey, a junior.

Bob Maggs will become a quality center. He began the 1984 season as a top tackle replacement and was moved to center, when regular Kirk Lowdermilk broke his leg. Maggs started three games at center and played extremely well. Depth will come from Rich Morris, Tim Odom and from Mike Madigan.

Additional help in the line may come from incoming freshmen, as Ohio State has signed four promising offensive linemen. Freshmen linemen rarely start for the Buckeyes, but the premium players often move into backup roles by midseason.

Backfield

Byars will key the offense at tailback. A unanimous All-American in 1984, he led the nation in rushing, scoring and in all-purpose running. Byars was Ohio State's top receiver with 42 receptions and scored one or more touchdowns in each of the 11 regular season games. His rare blend of speed and power makes him the premier running back in all of college football.

Behind Byars is John Wooldridge, a talented, quality ball carrier. The team's second leading ground gainer in 1984, Wooldridge ran for 633 yards and averaged 5.9 yards per carry.

Barry Walker has been moved from fullback to tailback. Buckeye coaches are hoping he can stay free of injuries, as he has unusual talent. Walker has excellent speed and the power to break tackles.

Jim Karsatos has been patiently waiting in the wings to take over at quarterback. His time has come with the graduation of Mike Tomczak. Called upon to start one game in 1983 and two in 1984, Karsatos performed admirably with three winning efforts. His quarterback mechanics, his strong arm and his knowledge of the passing game make him a favorite to start.

Tupa impressed the staff with his leadership and versatility in spring drills. Agile and active, he is expected to offer stern competition for the starting position. Scott Powell, a scrambler, and Gary Clift, who missed spring practice due to an injury, are highly regarded quarterback hopefuls.

After spending two years as a reserve tailback, Mike Lanese came into his own as a flanker in 1984. Blessed with good hands and great dedication, he caught 41 passes for 618 yards last season. He has the ability to get open and is hard to bring down once he has the ball.

A trio of speedsters, Nate Harris, Dino Dawson and Jamie Holland, provide excellent depth. Rarely, if ever, has Ohio State had more, able pass receivers.

Fullback could go to anyone of three players, with a fourth, slated to provide solid blocking and dependable play. George Cooper was the most improved player on the squad in spring drills. He ran hard, blocked effectively, and played with confidence. As a result, Cooper is the likely starter this fall.

Another outstanding runner who can play either tailback or fullback is Bates. He averaged 5.5 yards per try as a freshman tailback in 1983 and was the starting fullback last year.

Mark Pfister was to be moved to fullback from linebacker in spring practice. A shoulder separation in the early drills forced him out of action and left the position change in limbo. Highly competitive and quick to learn, Pfister was a fullback in high school.

Bates, who started six games in 1984, is the most experienced fullback. He may assume a dual role in 1985, seeing action both at tailback and at fullback.

DEFENSE

Four new starters must be found on defense. Coach Bruce and defense coordinator Gary Blackney have opted to go with a three stand-up linebacker alignment, which eliminates the middle guard position. In the new scheme, the middle linebacker plays just one yard off the line of scrimmage, thus incorporating some features of middle guard play as well as those of a three-linebacker set.

Line

Darryl Lee and either Henry Brown or Ray Holliman are slated to start at the tackle positions. Lee, a two-letter winner as a reserve, has shown he is ready to start. Darryl has a special knack for coming up with a big play at crucial situations. Brown was red-shirted last year while Holliman was a top replacement in 1984. Freshman red-shirt Jeff Uhlenhake and transfer Jim McConville are considered good prospects.

Linebackers

Byron Lee, a starter in 1984, will be a regular at one outside linebacker position while Eric Kumerow will start on the other side. Lee, powerful and punishing, is especially effective against the run. Kumerow, who started the last four games in 1984, is quick, strong and very agile. His height makes him an ideal pass rusher.

Reserve strength will come from freshmen red-shirts Jim Davidson, Tom Anderzack and Mike McCray.

With the Buckeyes using three inside linebackers this year, Coach Bruce can get Thomas Johnson, Chris Spielman and Larry Kolic into the starting lineup. This talented trio comprises the strength of the defense.

Johnson is of All-America caliber. Fast, physical and spirited, he can be a dominant defensive player.

Spielman, hobbled with sprained ankles for much of the 1984 season, has exceptional lateral movement and plays with great emotion. He was easily the top defensive player in the Rose Bowl with 12 solo tackles and three assists.

Kolic had a troubled year in 1984, but still finished third in tackles even though he missed three games. A jarring tackler, Kolic is one of the strongest players on the team.

Depth at inside linebacker positions is thin, especially if Pfister stays at fullback. Fred Ridder, Scott Leach, Mike Kee and Joe Jenkins are the leading hopefuls. Fortunately, there is considerable talent in the freshman class.

Secondary

All four of last year's starters in the secondary will return as well as the top replacement. Called "The Four Smurfs" because of their diminutive size, the young foursome played very well in 1984.

William White and Greg Rogan, both freshmen last year, will return at the corner positions. White had an exceptional year: three interceptions, seven passes broken up, two fumbles recovered and 48 tackles. Rogan, with 59 tackles, played steady football at the other corner spot.

Sonny Gordon, with 64 tackles, four interceptions, four passes broken up and five touchdown saves, provided good play at the rover position. Safety Terry White, the smallest of four small regulars, led all deep defenders with 71 tackles. He had four interceptions and deflected five passes.

Steve Hill, the top replacement in 1984 and a two-letter winner, will be ready to help out wherever and whenever he is needed. Ray Jackson, a specialty teams player and a pair of freshmen red-shirts, Sean Bell and Dwight Smith, will supply backup strength.

Kicking Game

No Ohio State player in history punted as well as freshman Tupa in 1984. He averaged 47.1 yards per kick and led the nation in net punting with an average of 44.1. Tupa repeatedly gave the Buckeyes good field position with his long, towering punts.

Spangler became a remarkable place-kicker last year after a midseason slump. His rhythm, confidence and range improved dramatically. Spangler has kicked 139 of 145 career extra points and needs just 34 more to set the school record held by Vlade Janakievski. Spangler emerged as a field goal kicker in 1984, connecting on 14 of 19, including a 52-yarder in the Rose Bowl.

Taggart and Jim Carroll are reserve punters and freshman Jeff Compton is the backup placekicker.

Summary

Whether Ohio State can repeat as champions in 1985 depends upon the performance of the offensive and defensive lines. Well-stocked with talented athletes at the skill positions, the offense must have an efficient line up front.

On defense, with strong linebackers and an experienced secondary, a consistency must be developed in the line to guarantee a strong unit overall.

Neither line is settled, especially on offense. Unfortunately many questions were left unanswered in spring practice. The parts must fit together by September 14, when the Buckeyes open the season with Pittsburgh.

Earle Bruce — Head Football Coach

Earle Bruce has completed six years as head football coach at The Ohio State University. During his stay with the Buckeyes, he has led OSU to three Big Ten championships, six consecutive bowl appearances and an overall record of 56 wins and just 16 losses. The latter is the best record by any Big Ten coach over the past half dozen seasons.

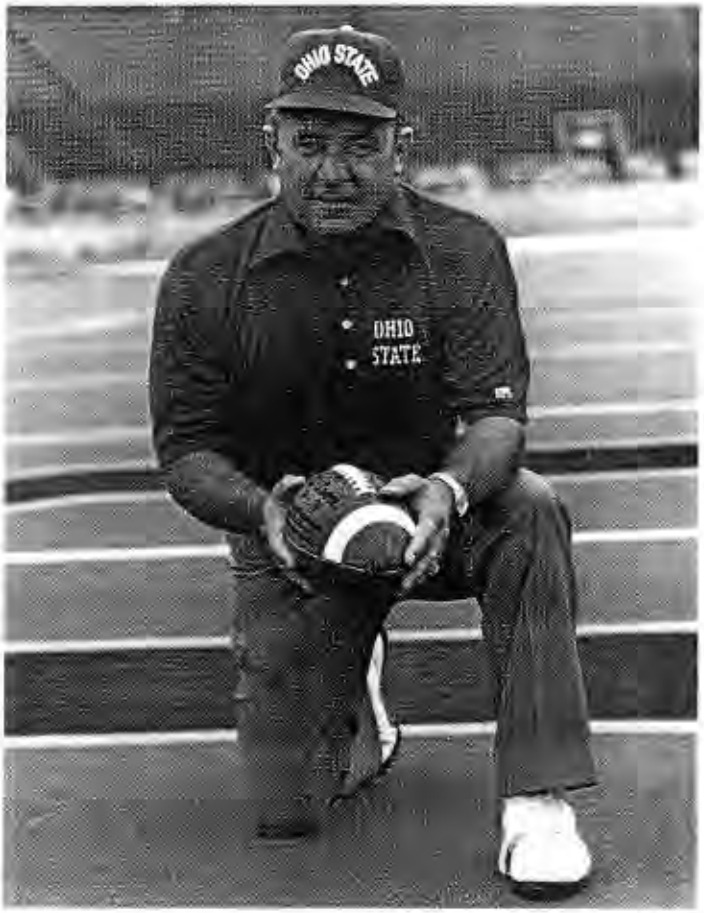
In Big Ten play Bruce's teams have won 41 of 50 games. He won the conference championship in 1979 (his first year at the OSU helm), shared the title in 1981 and won it outright again this past season. Additionally, his 1980 and 1982 teams both finished second in the league race, the former squad losing out by a game and the latter on percentage points.

Bruce, 54, has completed 13 years as head coach on the collegiate level, with previous stops at Tampa and Iowa State. His career record is 102-50.

Under Bruce, the Buckeyes have become one of the nation's most productive offensive units. This past year, OSU led the conference in scoring (34.0) and rushing (252.0) and was second in total offense (436.0). All three totals placed OSU in the top ten nationally.

An outstanding recruiter, Bruce has brought some of the nation's very finest high school players into the Buckeye fold. Included in that group are tailback Keith Byars, a consensus All-America this past year and a leading candidate for the 1985 Heisman Trophy; All-America guard Jim Lachey, and two of the outstanding freshmen in college football this past season, split end Cris Carter and linebacker Chris Spielman.

Bruce's players also have enjoyed success in the classroom. This past year flanker Mike Lanese and defensive tackle Dave Crecelius were named to the Academic All-America team, and Crecelius received the prestigious National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholarship as one of the top 11 student-athletes in college football. The latter marked the third consecutive year that the Buckeyes have won a similar honor.



Bruce was born in Pittsburgh and grew up in Cumberland, Maryland. An outstanding high school football player, he enrolled at Ohio State in the fall of 1949. A knee injury ended his football playing career. When it did, he turned to coaching at the urging of his college mentor, Woody Hayes.

Bruce graduated from Ohio State in 1953 and began his coaching career the following fall as an assistant at Mansfield High School.

Bruce's first head coaching opportunity came in 1956 at Salem High School. He spent four years there, four at Sandusky and two at Massillon in a ten-year stint that saw him win Ohio High School Coach of the Year honors three times. His combined record at those three schools was 82-12-3, including a 20-0 mark at Massillon, and he closed out his prep career with a 42-game winning streak.

Bruce returned to his alma mater in 1966 as an assistant to Hayes. He spent a total of six years with the Buckeyes, the first two as coach of the secondary and the last four as offensive line coach. During that time OSU won three Big Ten titles, a national championship, played in two Rose Bowls and won 43 of 57 games.

In 1972, Bruce departed for the University of Tampa. He spent one year at the Florida school, notching a 10-2 mark and directing Tampa to a berth in the Tangerine Bowl

Bruce went to Iowa State in 1973, inheriting a program that had enjoyed just two winning seasons in ten years. Bruce's first three teams all finished with 4-7 marks, but his next three recorded consecutive 8-3 ledgers, the latter two appearing in the Hall of Fame and Peach Bowls, respectively. Bruce twice was named Big Eight Coach of the Year while with the Cyclones.

After directing Iowa State to the Peach Bowl in 1978, Bruce returned to Ohio State in 1979, succeeding the man he had both played for and coached under, Woody Hayes.

Bruce's first OSU team posted a brilliant 11-1 record. The only loss that year was a one point setback in the Rose Bowl that cost the Buckeyes the national championship. Following the 1979 season Bruce was named Big Ten and National Coach of the Year.

Since that first year, Bruce has put together five straight 9-3 seasons and taken the Buckeyes to the Fiesta, Liberty, Holiday, Fiesta and Rose bowls, respectively.

Offense

GLEN MASON

Offense Coordinator
Tackles and Tight Ends
8th Year at OSU
14th Year in College

Glen Mason has been a member of the Ohio State coaching staff since 1978. In 1980, he was named offense coordinator.

Mason is a 1972 graduate of Ohio State. A native of Colonia, New Jersey, he won a varsity letter with the Buckeyes in 1970 and figured to be a starter in 1971. A broken ankle, one week before the season opener, abruptly ended his career.

As a coach he began as a graduate assistant at Ball State in 1972. The following year he went to Allegheny College and in 1974 he returned to Ball State. In 1975, Mason went to Iowa State as an assistant under Earle Bruce.

Mason was at Iowa State for one season, before moving to Illinois in 1976. He was an Illini assistant until April, 1978, when he joined the Ohio State football staff.

Glen and his wife, Sally, a former Ohio State cheerleader, have a son, Patrick, and a daughter, Chris.

STEVE DEVINE

Guards and Centers
3rd Year at OSU
8th Year in College

Steve Devine joined the Ohio State University football coaching staff August 1, 1983. For the first year his chief duties involved recruiting. Prior to the 1984 season, Devine was made coach of the offensive guards and centers.

Devine is from Marysville, Ohio, graduating from high school in 1968. He attended Heidelberg College, receiving his degree in 1972. In athletics, he played fullback on the football team.

He spent three years as a teacher and assistant football coach in Marion, Ohio. In 1977 he went to the University of Washington to work as a part-time coach for Don James.

He came to Ohio State in 1979, serving as a graduate assistant on Earle Bruce's first Buckeye staff.

From 1980 through '82, Devine was guard and center coach at Bowling Green State University.

Steve and his wife, Suzanne, have no children.

JIM TRESSEL

QB's and Receivers
3rd Year at OSU
11th Year in College

Jim Tressel joined the Ohio State University football coaching staff January 7, 1983.

It is only natural Jim should be a football coach. His father, Lee, was an outstanding coach at Baldwin-Wallace College for 23 years, where he compiled a brilliant 154-53-6 record.

Jim was raised in Berea, Ohio. An outstanding quarterback in high school, he played college football for his father at Baldwin-Wallace. In 1974, Jim won all-Ohio Conference honors.

He graduated from Baldwin-Wallace in 1975 with a degree in education. He started his coaching career the following fall at the University of Akron, where he coached the offensive backfield and wide receivers.

In 1979 he went to Miami under Coach Tom Reed, as coach of quarterbacks and wide receivers. In 1981 he joined the Syracuse staff as quarterback coach.

The unique charm of the Ohio State campus is immediately evident. Although located in Columbus, a vibrant growing city of 550,000, the attractively landscapped campus, adorned with special flower and shrubbery arrangements and complete with tree-lined streets, has a serenity and almost pastoral setting that suggests it is far removed from a metropolitan center. Ohio State provides the best of two worlds, a quiet, charming campus conducive to study and scholarly pursuits along with the advantages and conveniences of a major population center.

Education at Ohio State flourishes beyond the undergraduate level. All the professional colleges, Law, Medicine, Dentistry, Optometry, Pharmacy, Nursing and Veterinary Medicine are located on the Columbus campus. With over 3,000 students in professional colleges, Ohio State has the second largest professional school enrollment in the country.

The Optometry College is rated among the top three in the nation and the Pharmacy College currently ranks third. The College of Veterinary Medicine consistently ranks in the top four in the country. The University Medical Center is experiencing continual expansion

Director of Athletics–Richard M. "Rick" Bay

Richard M. "Rick" Bay officially took office as The Ohio State University's fifth Director of Athletics, July 1, 1984. He came to Ohio State from the University of Oregon, where he served in a similar capacity for nearly three years.

In his first year at Ohio State, Bay took over one of the largest and most comprehensive college athletic programs in the country. Unfortunately, it was also one of the most expensive. The Ohio State intercollegiate program has 30 sports, 16 for men, 12 for women and two that are coeducational. Between 800 and 850 student-athletes participate in sports each school year, and the department budget now exceeds $14 million annually.

Football and basketball receipts, which up until recently were able to fund the entire program, can no longer carry the financial burden, as the costs have increased dramatically due to inflation and the rapid growth of women's athletics.

In assessing Ohio State's huge athletic budget and the potential income, Bay immediately set out to increase revenue through other means. A stepped up fund raising program has been instituted, new marketing procedures are being adopted along with special merchandising concepts.

"We simply must generate more revenue to maintain our program and keep it competitive," says Bay. "New facilities are needed and at today's prices we are talking big dollars."

Bay is a man of unusual talents and of diverse interests. His father was a wrestling coach and an athletic administrator and his stepmother was an English teacher, who had a special interest in Elizabethan drama. Rick's interests and talents reflect this.

A native of Waukegan, Illinois, he graduated from high school with a 3.9 grade point average. As an athlete, he won all-Illinois honors in football, wrestling and baseball. He was chosen "Illinois Athlete of the Year" in 1961.

Bay attended the University of Michigan, graduating with honors in 1965. He majored in English and speech. In athletics, he was a standout wrestler and played quarterback in football. He won two Big Ten championships in wrestling and won All-America honors in 1964. In his senior year, 1965, he was named "Outstanding Wrestler in the Big Ten." He went through an entire three-year wrestling career without losing a dual meet decision in Big Ten competition.

Following graduation, he worked in commercial radio, and in 1966, was named assistant wrestling coach at Michigan. He held this position four years and in 1970 was named head wrestling coach of the Wolverines. In four years as head coach, Bay's Michigan teams compiled a glittering 43-5-3 dual meet record, including a 31-2-2 mark against Big Ten opposition. The 1973 Michigan team won the Big Ten championship and the 1974 team was runner-up in the NCAA. In 1973, Bay was named "College Wrestling Coach of the Year."

After the 1974 wrestling season, Bay joined the Michigan Alumni Association. He was responsible for directing the external activities of the Alumni Association including its nationwide club program and an alumni enrichment drive. In 1980, Bay directed the association's successful $2.6 million fund raising campaign for a new Alumni Center.

For a ten-year period, Bay also served as color commentator for Michigan football on radio.

Additionally, Bay is a patron of the arts, with a special interest in dance, opera and theatre. He has seen literally hundreds of professional productions throughout the world and served as "Theatre Critic" for an Ann Arbor radio station.

In 1981 Bay left the Michigan Alumni Association to become Director of Athletics at the University of Oregon. He took over a troubled program. The Athletic Department was in debt and was about to go on NCAA probation. The public was losing faith in Oregon athletics.

In one year, Bay made remarkable strides. He balanced the budget with increased revenue through the reorganization of a fund raising program. Some expenditures were reduced and the bond of trust and respect between athletics and the public and the administration was greatly improved. The NCAA probation was lifted and Oregon athletics were operating on a sound financial base. Under Bay's guidance, Oregon raised more than one million dollars during the 1982-83 school year, a record high for athletic fund raising at the University.

After taking the position of Director of Athletics at Ohio State in 1984, Bay said, "I regard The Ohio State University athletic program to be one of the top five programs in the country. It has a tradition of excellence that is admired by everyone."

Rick and his wife, Denice, were married in June, 1984.

James Jones — Senior Associate Director of Athletics

Jim Jones has been an employee of The Ohio State University since 1965 and a member of the Athletic Department since 1967. He has served with four of Ohio State's five Athletic Directors.

As Senior Associate Director of Athletics, Jones is responsible for the business manager, the sports information office, counseling, the medical staff, eligibility, plant maintenance and the grant-in-aid program. He has a thorough knowledge of the many and diverse areas that make up a major athletic department.

Jones is a 1958 graduate of Kent State University, with a major in mathematics. After graduation, he taught mathematics and coached football and basketball both on a junior high and senior high level.

In 1964, he left high school teaching and coaching to earn a master's degree at Ball State University. The next two years he taught physical education at The Ohio State University and in 1967 joined the Athletic Department as academic counselor. In 1970 he was named Assistant Director of Athletics and in 1977 became Senior Associate Director.

Jim and his wife, Linda, have two children, son Bill, a student at Ohio State, and daughter Lynnae, in high school.

Bill Myles — Associate Director of Athletics

Bill Myles was named Associate Director of Athletics on March 19, 1985. In this capacity, he oversees the entire 18 sports for men. This includes budgets, schedules, travel, home game administration and coach evaluation.

Prior to his present position, Myles served as an assistant football coach at Ohio State for eight years. He was hired by Coach Woody Hayes in 1977 and retained when Earle Bruce took over as head football coach in 1979.

Myles is a native of Kansas City and a veteran of 23 years of coaching experience. He graduated from Drake University in 1962, and, as an undergraduate, played center and linebacker in football.

He began a coaching career in 1962 in Kansas City as a high school assistant. In 1965, he became a head coach. In seven years as a head coach his teams posted a 45-20-3 record. In 1972, Myles went to the University of Nebraska as a line coach and in 1975 became linebacker coach.

Bill and his wife, Lorita, have a married daughter, Debbie, and a son, Bill, who attends U. of Dayton.

Phyllis Bailey — Associate Director of Athletics

Phyllis Bailey has been a member of The Ohio State University faculty since 1956. She has served as Associate Director of Athletics since July of 1977. Her duties are to supervise the women's athletic program at Ohio State.

Ms. Bailey has played a major role in the development of women's sports at Ohio State, starting in 1965-66, when athletic competition began, to the present time, when Ohio State has 12 women's sports, each with full-time coaches and with generous budgets providing for full schedules and attractive travel. A successful women's program was guaranteed in 1976, when an extensive grant-in-aid program was instituted.

Ohio State women's teams have been very successful. The Lady Buckeye squads have won over twice as many Big Ten championships as any other conference school. Buckeye women's teams consistently have competed well on a national level in a variety of sports.

Ms. Bailey is a graduate of Miami University. She taught physical education at Earlham College and at Wayne State University before coming to Ohio State in 1956. ### Pittsburgh Outlook

Pittsburgh has good reason to expect a much-improved team over last year. Much depends upon quarterback John Congemi staying healthy, something he did not do in 1984. Coach Fazio says of Congemi, "When healthy, he is as good as anybody in the country."

The offensive line has two standouts, tackle Randy Dixon and guard Mike Dorundo. Barry Pettyjohn will move from center to guard.

At running back Charles Gladman will be the key man, but a new fullback must be found.

Defensively, end Tony Woods, tackles Bob Buczkowski and Walter Johnson and middle guard Dennis Atiyeh are experienced and solid.

New starting linebackers are needed but there are four candidates who have lettered.

The secondary has three of four starters back from 1984, including Bill Callahan and Teryl Austin, outstanding safeties.

Coach Fazio says of his defense, "We want to return to the aggressive and reckless style of the past when the Pitt defense was one of the best in the country."

Colorado Outlook

Despite a 1-10 record a year ago, there is no shortage of optimism with the Colorado Buffaloes. Coach Bill McCartney has 38 lettermen who suffered through a painful learning experience in 1985.

Colorado has switched to a wishbone attack. The Buffs have the personnel to run the wishbone, although it took some position changes to do it. Flanker Ron Brown, with :04.3 speed, will move to halfback.

The offensive line has matured to the point it is ready to assert itself. On defense, linebacker Barry Remington and defensive back Mickey Pruitt lead the way on a unit that is expected to be vastly improved.

The key to the season will be at quarterback, where Craig Keenan, who passed for 1,012 yards in 1984, must adjust to the wishbone attack. Keenan will be pressed by Mark Hatcher and by Alan Strait.

The new offense has created plenty of excitement around Boulder. Coach McCartney pointed out only seven teams ran the wishbone in 1984 and six went to bowls.

Keith Byars was superb for Ohio State, running for 274 yards and scoring five touchdowns. His fourth score was a dazzling 67-yard run in which he reversed the field and lost a shoe on the Illinois 35 but still had the speed to outrun the Illini defenders.

Mike Tomczak hit on 16 of 26 passes for 236 yards to balance the Buckeye attack.

Jack Trudeau was brilliant for the Illini with 32 of 52 passes for 313 yards and four touchdowns. Cap Boso caught ten passes and David Williams snared seven for Illinois. Thomas Rooks ran for 168 yards.

Purdue, playing the role of opportunists, dealt Ohio State's championship hopes a setback by beating the Buckeyes 28-23 at West Lafayette.

Ohio State's offense rolled up 570 yards, believed to be the most ever for the Buckeyes in a losing effort, but could not keep Purdue from getting some big plays that proved the difference.

Two key interceptions, one a 55-yard return; a 65-yard pass to Steve Griffin and a 79-yard march provided the spark to the Purdue offense. Boilermaker quarterback Jim Everett was 17 for 23 in passing for 257 yards and three touchdowns.

Keith Byars ran for 191 yards, scored twice and caught nine passes to star for the Buckeyes. Ohio State rushed for 290 yards, passed for 280 and made 30 first downs, yet lost the game.

Defensively, both teams had problems stopping each other.

Ohio State played a rare regular season night game and came out with a hard-fought 35-22 win.

Minnesota started a new quarterback, Rickey Foggie, and featured an option attack. The Gophers rushed for 189 yards and passed for 161.

Ohio State's offense amassed 454 yards, 273 on the ground and 181 in the air. Keith Byars accounted for 164 of the rushing yardage and scored three times. Mike Tomczak was extremely sharp in passing with 13 of 19 for 181 yards and two scores.

Mike Lanese was the chief target with seven receptions for 113 yards.

While the Buckeyes never trailed, the outcome was not determined until the fourth quarter when a Tomczak to Cris Carter pass gave the Buckeyes a commanding 35-14 edge over the Gophers.

Foggie passed for 129 yards and had two scoring tosses. Foggie, Tony Hunter and Valdez Baylor provided good balance to the Minnesota ground game.

In a game that had two contrasting halves, Ohio State soundly defeated Iowa 45-26 before a packed house in Ohio Stadium.

Tied 14-14 early in the second period, the Buckeyes erupted for three touchdowns to take a 31-10 lead that was too much for the Hawkeyes to overcome.

The second half was a defensive battle, whereas both teams featured powerful offenses in the first half.

Keith Byars was brilliant for the Buckeyes. He ran for 120 yards, caught five passes and completed his only pass attempt. Byars scored four times, two by rushing, one by pass receiving and another by passing.

Mike Tomczak, making his first start, completed 14 of 22 for 150 yards. His rival, Chuck Long of Iowa, had a great day with 22 of 35 for 275 yards and two touchdowns. Ronnie Harmon added 132 yards on the ground for the Iowa cause.

Wisconsin's stout defense held Ohio State in check for much of the rainy, gloomy afternoon, as the host Badgers upset the Buckeyes 16-14. Wisconsin owned a 10-0 lead at halftime and outgained Ohio State 309 to 119 in total yards.

The Buckeyes finally got on the board in the third quarter on a 39-yard reverse by Mike Lanese. A pair of Wisconsin field goals, both following Ohio State turnovers, put the Badgers ahead 16-7 midway through the fourth period.

Ohio State marched 70 yards as Keith Byars scored from the two with 3:34 to play. The Buckeyes got the ball back one final time but the aroused Badger defense stopped Ohio State on four downs.

Wisconsin ran for 321 yards, including 202 by reserve tailback Marck Harrison. Badger quarterback Mike Howard connected on 17 of 29 passes for 158 yards to balance the Wisconsin attack.

Ohio State won the undisputed Big Ten championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl with a 21-6 win over Michigan before a record Ohio Stadium crowd of 90,286.

The Buckeye defense turned in a third straight outstanding performance, limiting the Wolverines to just 264 yards and a pair of field goals.

Rover Sonny Gordon's end zone inteception in the second quarter dashed Michigan's only serious scoring bid. Buckeye heroes were numerous, especially on the defensive end. Larry Kolic, Byron Lee, Anthony Giuliani, Dave Morrill, Pepper Johnson, Chris Spielman and Gordon all came in for special mention.

The Buckeyes marched 61 yards to score first as Keith Byars powered in over right guard from one yard out.

Two Michigan field goals cut the margin to 7-6, but Ohio State broke the game open in the fourth period with two touchdowns.

OHIO STATE has led the nation in attendance per home game for 21 of the last 34 years and has been second 10 times
and third three times

The symbol of Ohio State University football is Ohio Stadium, a stately, venerable, 64-year-old structure that has been the home site for Buckeye games since 1922. Its unique, double-decked, horseshoe-shaped design has been studied by countless architects and designers.

Ohio State played its early football at Ohio Field, with a capacity of 14,000. When the University joined the Western Conference (now the Big Ten) in 1913, pressure for a larger stadium mounted.

World War I temporarily arrested plans for a new stadium, but in October, 1920, the Stadium campaign officially began. Alumni, friends of Ohio State, Columbus residents and students supported the cause. More than 13,000 people pledged gifts totaling $1,083,000 and the dream thus became a reality.

Construction began in August, 1921, and by September, 1922, the structure was virtually completed. The cost of the Stadium was $1,341,000, an unheard-of figure in those days. The original capacity was 66,210. Critics bitterly chastised Ohio State Athletic Director L. W. St. John for such an extravagant facility that had "thousands of seats that would never be filled."

Ohio Stadium was dedicated October 21, 1922 and an overflow crowd of 71,385 fans was present.

The capacity of the concrete structure has been gradually increased to 73,349 with the addition of several rows of seats, narrowing the width of all seats, and by creating additional boxes. South stands and temporary field seats have been added. The south stands have been enlarged numerous times, the most recent in 1982, raising the seating capacity to 85,339. An additional 1,000 standing room tickets are sold.

Ohio Stadium has unusual design. Towers are located at each side of the open end. The circumference is one-third of a mile and the ground area is ten acres. The Stadium is 752 feet long and 596 feet wide. The height of the back wall is 98 feet.

There are 56 stairways, 12 ramps and 112 aisles feeding 81 exits. A capacity crowd can clear the Stadium in seven minutes.

With the conclusion of the 1984 season, 24,588,188 people have watched 356 Ohio State football games, an average of 69,068 per game and more than the original capacity.
